

Modern Slavery Policy

Graitec's is fully compliant with the Section 54 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015, the directors take their responsibility seriously in preventing any form of slavery and/or human trafficking within business and supply chain.

Graitec is committed to ensuring that any forms of slavery or human trafficking are not taking place in our supply chain.

Given the nature of our business, our supply chain mostly consists of the procurement of other software-related goods and services and the chain is typically just 1 supplier-level deep and very limited compared with manufacturers and retailers. Consequently, we consider ourselves to be low risk.

Nevertheless, due diligence is undertaken by Graitec to ensure we only engage with reputable suppliers and avoid contracting with suppliers which are located within geographical areas where slavery and/or human trafficking are a risk.

We undertake Supplier Assessments to establish risk profiles before engaging with them. These assessments are regularly reviewed.

We do not support a supply chain where we have any evidence of slavery or human trafficking and ensure that our customers also are reputable businesses and also fully compliant with the act.
